

Book Assistance Program

For Migrant/Seasonal
Farmworkers and Dependents

Congratulations!

You are eligible to receive assistance with your books and supplies through the WIOA National Farmworker Jobs Program, which is a federally funded program that assists Migrant/Seasonal Farmworkers and their families to attain greater economic stability. Funding for this program comes from the U.S. Department of Labor through Employers' Training Resource to CSUB.

For more information contact Jana Webb at
(661) 336-6982

ETR FW 602 | Updated 6.2024

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY
BAKERSFIELD

When you are ready to GRADUATE
let us help you start looking for work!

ETR has trained staff to help with job referrals, interviewing techniques and employment counseling. We have the backing of the Workforce Development Board that is made up of major employers who are committed to helping local college grads get hired in local jobs.

You may also qualify for additional services such as assistance with uniforms, interview attire, testing fees, fingerprinting, graduation fees and other costs associated with employment.

Allowing us to help you with your job search will help future students! Let us know when you have obtained a job as your placement will ensure continued funding for future migrant students like yourself.